From The Superintendent's Desk – By Dr. Plas

One practice that I systematically incorporated into my life several years ago is the practice of self-evaluation. Four times each year, I write down a few things that I 'think' I am doing well and several things that I need to improve upon. At that point, I set goals to attempt to improve on the things I do poorly; unfortunately I am not always successful on changing my weaknesses immediately, but I love trying to become a better educator each day. In my opinion, creating a plan and being aware of my issues has really helped me address weaknesses and improve.

Teachers/Coaches/Administrators never reach a place where they can say have perfected their craft. Education is a living organism that is constantly evolving, changing, and adapting to our ever changing youth. Some people would find that to be maddening, but personally I LOVE IT! What better profession than one that you can constantly get better, work harder, and try to improve. We have begun to do a lot of self-reflecting at Lakeview on areas we can continue to improve. We have one goal which is to provide the best education possible for our students. That can't be done without looking inward at things we can improve upon.

If you can find some time this spring, I would encourage you to sit down with your student and do some self-evaluation. Use this process to set some goals to improve over this last quarter of the school year. Motivation often lacks in students as they begin to think about the upcoming summer months. This practice may help keep everyone motivated to finish the school year on a great note. If nothing else, practicing self-reflection and setting goals will be a good experience to share with your child!

EMBARKING ON A NEW JOURNEY

By Steve Borer, Principal 7-12

As the end of the school year quickly approaches, our students' minds start to transition to different thoughts. Many students will think about upcoming family vacations or about their summer employment, but a very special group of seniors will have thoughts much different than their peers and much different than the thoughts that they have had in years past, because once this summer starts they will face new issues, opportunities, and choices.

To me Lakeview's senior class embodies what is remarkable about our community. This group of students is brimming with talent that exists in a wide range of forms and characteristics. Some of our seniors are great athletes, some are great speakers, some are talented artists, writers, and musicians, some are caretakers and dutiful citizens, and all of them have more than one of these dignified qualities. Our seniors are a small representation of our community, and they represent us well.

As these seniors embark on a new journey in their lives, one less controlled, filled with opportunity and choices, it is my sincere hope that we have provided them with the skills necessary for success after high school. I hope that we have enabled them to think and reason. I hope that we have effectively taught them how to read and write fluently. I hope we have instilled in them concern for others and a desire to care for themselves and their world. I hope that we have taught them how to learn, because lessons are not always taught in classrooms. I also hope that they know that we send them on with our support and faith. I hope they are confident that we believe in them and expect them to do great things! Good luck to our class of 2017!

Seniors attending college in the fall should be making their final decisions about where they will be attending. Be sure to check your student accounts with the colleges you have applied to for any possible late scholarships and to not miss any acceptance dates for scholarships already awarded. Lakeview Speech Team Wins State-Runner Up

On March 23, the Lakeview Speech Team made history by placing as the Class B runner-up at the NSAA Speech Championships in Kearney. The result is the highest finish in school history.

Earning points for the team were Seniors Cole Tessendorf, Emily Casanova, and Jennifer Jimenez. For the second year in a row, Tessendorf placed third in informative speaking. Casanova, after qualifying for the tournament for her fourth straight year, went out on top by winning the state championship in poetry interpretation. In entertainment speaking, Jimenez improved on her 4th place finish from last year by winning a state championship. She wasn't done, however, also earning a championship in her second event, informative speaking. With these finishes, the trio earned 76 points, enough to put the team in an unbreakable tie with Omaha Skutt, who shared the runner-up title. York finished as the Class B champion with 170 points.

The finish was the culmination of one of the program's most successful seasons, never finishing below 10th place at a tournament while facing a challenging schedule, often competing against Class A schools. The team is next in action May 12-14, when Emily Casanova, Kayleen Kouma, Madison Schwarz, Savanna Denton, and Hayden Nelson compete at National Individual Event Tournament of Champions in Kansas City, Missouri.

Jennifer Jimenez (1st) and Cole Tessendorf (3rd) receiving their medals for informative speaking.

Anatomy of a Fish

Students in Grades 4-6 have been participating in a project called "Trout in the Classroom." This is a program through Nebraska Game and Parks. On Friday, March 24, Mrs. Miller and her HS Biology classes came to Platte Center Elementary to assist the students with fish dissection. Several students who were at first hesitant at touching their fish, soon became adept at using the scalpel, probe, and forceps. Both external and internal parts were discussed, as well as the purpose of the parts. Students enjoyed the interaction with the high school students. Having the "extra hands" while doing this project was greatly appreciated by the teachers.

Due to some water issues, the classroom is down to three fish. The students have still enjoyed seeing the progress made each week. As a culminating activity, grades 5 & 6 will be going to Ak-Sar-Ben Aquarium for their field trip.

2nd Grade Welcomes New "Family"

The 2nd grade's new "family" of chicks are being hatched! At this time 9 have pecked their way through the hard shells. Students are keeping their fingers crossed that all 12 eggs hatch. A large, cozy box with heat lamp, feed and water await the newcomers. One lucky student will get to take the chicks home to raise. Thank you to Jim Mueller, Platte County Extension Agent for providing the incubator, eggs, educational instruction and FUN to the 2nd Grade.

4th Grade Learn about Early Pioneers

On Tuesday, April 4th the 4th grade students at Platte Center Elementary and Shell Creek Elementary took a trip back in time! Students got the opportunity to see what life was like in the 1860's at Stuhr Museum in Grand Island. Students were told that their job in 1860 was "to survive". They chopped and peeled potatoes and carrots to make a delicious stew, manually took the kernels off the cob to make corn cob jelly, and churned butter to go with their homemade corn bread. Students had to wash their dishes with soap the pioneers would have made and had to make several trips outside the cabin to get fresh water. After several hours of chores and preparing lunch, students sat down and helped set the table, bring in firewood, and serve the stew and cornbread. Students gained a better appreciation of technology that we have that make cooking, cleaning, and even heating our houses a lot easier. 4th graders got to bring home candles and jelly that they made from scratch! Students loved the day and were so glad they got to take their trip back in time!

H.A.L. An enrichment program for our High Ability Learners(H.A.L.) has been taking place at the Lakeview Grade Schools. Students in grades 5&6 who meet the criteria are invited to the after-school sessions in Math and Science. This is an exciting opportunity to challenge students in these core areas. Mrs. Wurtz is teaching the Math sessions and Mrs. Polanco is teaching Science. The sessions engage the students in higher levels of thinking outside the regular classroom curriculum.

The 3rd-5th grade students are reading the novels, Number the Stars, and Sarah, Plain and Tall, where we are enjoying getting to know special characters and their unique character traits. As we get closer to Holy Week, we are learning about the ministry of Jesus leading up to His great sacrifice for us on the cross, and the great hope the resurrection brings us!

Our Kindergarten through 2nd grade students are learning how to measure with various tools. They are working on inches, feet and centimeters. They are also learning how to tell time to the hour, half hour and 5 minute intervals. We are studying our American heritage in Social Studies. Students learned about some of the heroes and holidays of our country. The students wrote about their hero and how they could celebrate a day in their honor. They also studied about the many parables and how Jesus used these stories to teach his people and us as well.

Preschool has been getting ready to celebrate Easter. We especially celebrate what God has done for us through His Son, Jesus! The children have practiced writing the letter Ee for Easter, and we have begun our end of the year testing. It's been a great year!!

Flat Stanley

by Mrs. Osten

The second graders read the book Flat Stanley by Jeff Brown. In the book, Stanley gets crushed with a bulletin board. He's fine, but now he's flat! Luckily for us, that means he could be folded into an envelope and sent anywhere in the world.

That led us into a fun geography project with him! The children brought home their own Flat Stanley to send to anyone or anyplace for a little adventure.

We got Flat Stanley adventures from many cities in Nebraska, states in the U.S.A. and even another country. Special thanks to everyone that participated, seeing pictures and reading letters were the highlight of our days.
